

4 day ahead United Kingdom & Eire Forecast

Tue 18 May

Day 1

Max & Min Temps (°C)

WARNINGS: Mist/fog patches in South.

WIND: WNW light in South but mod/fresh in N.

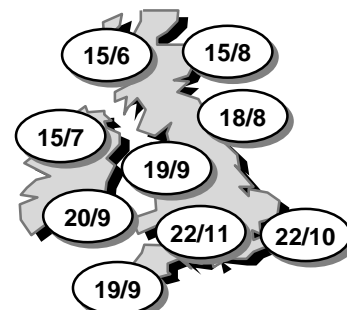

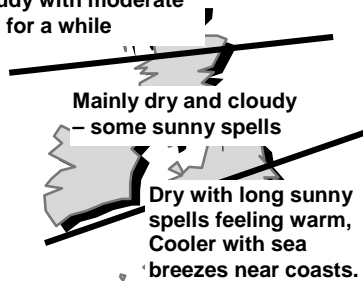

WEATHER: High pressure to the S continues to bring sunny and warm conditions to England and Wales. A weakening cold front should bring a little patchy rain to S Scotland, Ireland and N England but staying mainly dry. Moderate rain for a while in the far N.

VISIBILITY: Good.

CLOUD: Fine to partly cloudy S, Cloudy in N.

CONFIDENCE OF FORECAST: High.

Cloudy with moderate rain for a while

Wed 19 May

Day 2

Max & Min Temps (°C)

WARNINGS: Nil.

WIND: NW light to moderate, fresh in NW.

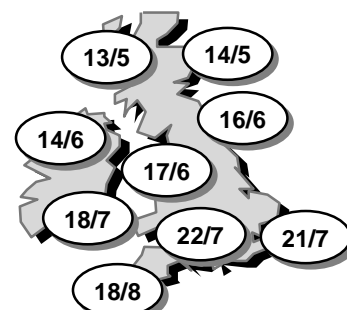

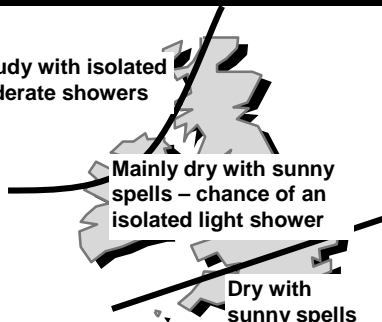

WEATHER: High pressure is expected to hold in the far South; hence, the sunny and warm conditions continuing. Cloudier elsewhere although sunny spells developing through the afternoon. Chance of an isolated light shower further N, the showers moderate in the far NW.

VISIBILITY: Good.

CLOUD: Cloudy. Partly cloudy in the South.

CONFIDENCE OF FORECAST: Med to high.

Cloudy with isolated moderate showers

Thu 20 May

Day 3

Max & Min Temps (°C)

WARNINGS: Mist/fog patches. Ground frost.

WIND: N light, moderate in the North.

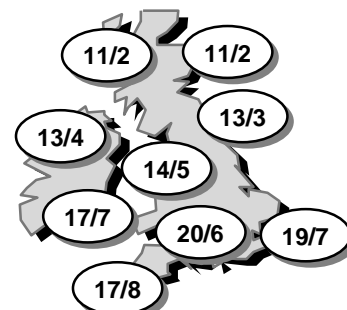

WEATHER: High pressure to the west extends a ridge eastwards over the U.K. Much of the Country dry with sunny spell although feeling a little cooler with a light Northerly breeze. Cloudier to the North with a scattering of moderate showers developing, the risk of a ground frost here overnight.

VISIBILITY: Good. Poor in fog.

CLOUD: Cloudy in N, partly cloudy in the S.

CONFIDENCE OF FORECAST: Medium.

Cloudy with scattered moderate showers developing. Cool.

Fri 21 May

Day 4

Max & Min Temps (°C)

WARNINGS: Mist/fog patches. Ground frost.

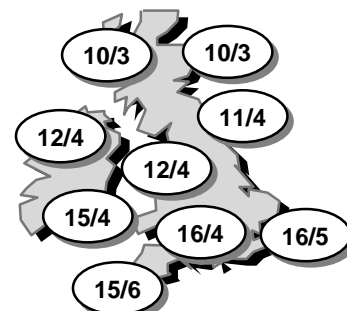

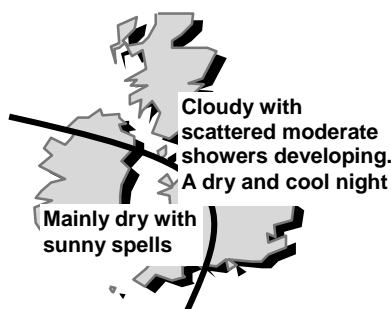

WIND: N light to moderate at times fresh.

WEATHER: High pressure intensifies and moves closer in the west. Cloudy in most places, some sunny spells. Cloud clearing to leave a dry night with ground frost in places. Scattered moderate showers developing mostly over the North and in Eastern England.

VISIBILITY: Good. Poor in overnight mist.

CLOUD: Cloudy breaking to partly cloudy later.

CONFIDENCE OF FORECAST: Medium.

This information is for planning purposes only and Airmet or Forms 214 & 215 must be used for self-briefing on day of flight.

Weather Commerce Ltd accept no liability for any loss howsoever arising from use of forecast information herein. The application of forecast information is entirely at the user's own risk. © Weather Commerce Ltd.

No part of this forecast may be copied, re-circulated or used in production of any forecasts without the written agreement of Weather Commerce Ltd. Infringement may result in prosecution. Weather Commerce Ltd registered in England and Wales - No. 4833498